

BRAND IDENTITY GUIDELINES

Brand Manifesto

We believe that the future of Africa lies in its vast land
We believe the future is in the hands of those who work the fields...
For those are the hands that feed nations...
And ensure a better and more productive Africa...
We believe in those hands and that is why we too bring our hands in support of them...
Our hands come bearing technologies and solutions that ensure their effort is not in vain...
But delivers results... Results that ensure a sustainable, prosperous, and food secure Africa...
At AATF, we're driving transformation of livelihoods in Sub-Saharan Africa,
...through innovative agricultural technologies that deliver results...
We promise to deliver...
Prosperity through Technology

Brand Manual Overview

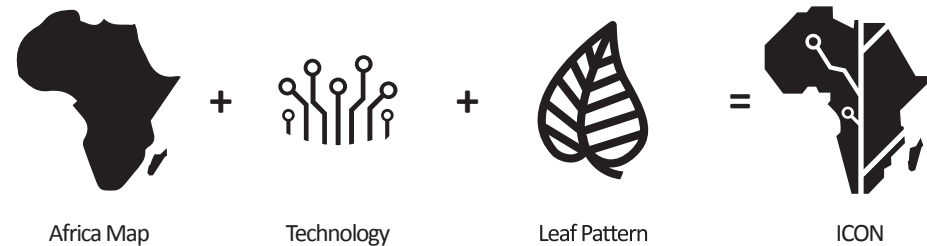

The aim of our brand identity is to define a more powerful, compelling and distinguished way of talking about AATF. To focus on what the brand stands for and communicate what we do.

A compelling corporate identity that expresses our personality and philosophy is important to AATF. Our corporate identity is the face and personality we present to the community at large. It's as important as the products and services we provide. Our identity is the total effect of our logos, products, brand names, trademarks, advertising, brochures, and presentations everything that represents us.

Because the brand cannot be compromised, we have created this guide to provide all the pertinent specifications you need to maintain its integrity. The guidelines in this document are not meant to inhibit, but to improve the creative process. By following these guidelines, the materials you create will represent AATF cohesively to the world at large.

Logo Overview and rationale

The logo is the one element that unifies and represents the organization and the brand. It has been specially designed to symbolize not only the name, but also what it stands for.

The leaf veins play the role of the mechanical support of the leaf. In this context, AATF plays the technical support in the agricultural industry.

The Logo

Position, size, and colors, along with the spatial and proportional relationships of the logo elements, are predetermined and should not be altered.

Since the size of the logo will vary depending on where it is being used, the clear space 'A' should be the same size with the one on the logo size being used.

= Clear Space

The clear space refers to the measurement surrounding the logo to ensure it is not squeezed. It equals the height of the letter "A" found in the AATF logotype.

Logo in Minimum Size

For the minimum size, if less than 55mm the logo should not have the tagline as it will not be legible.

Co-branding

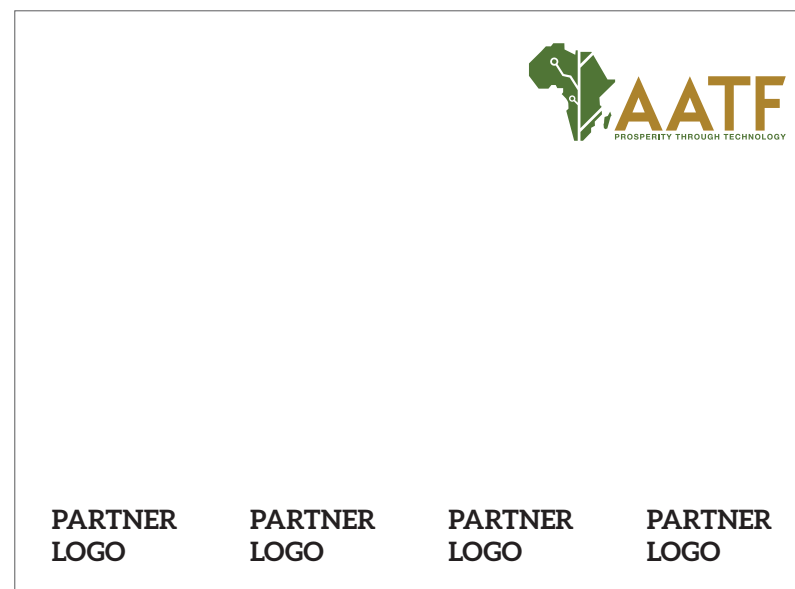

When approaching a jointly branded product or project, take into account the degree of ownership, the purpose of the initiative, and the intended audience or market. The following principles apply:

Equal ownership: When ownership is equal (e.g., a jointly published report), place the AATF logo in the lower-right corner of a book cover, poster, or brochure and the cosponsor's logo in the lower-left corner, with the logos approximately the same size.

AATF with greater ownership: Place AATF's logo in the lower-right corner, with other logos on the back cover; or place the AATF logo in the upper right and the other logo(s) at or across the bottom of the page. The lesser logos should be roughly the same size as each other but smaller than the AATF logo.

The AATF logo should appear on the front cover in a legible size. When the publication has more than one sponsor, the AATF logo should be similar in size to the accompanying cosponsor logos, unless AATF has greater ownership.

Logo Single Colour Applications

The logo should only be applied in its official colours.

Where colour is not applicable it can only be applied in black as a single positive or in reverse as single unit.

Logo Do's and Don'ts

The composition of the logo, the representation of its components and its colours may not be altered.

Under no circumstances may the logo be modified, distorted or recreated.

The entire logo and any of its elements may not be used as a decorative background.

Some examples of unacceptable modifications and incorrect uses of the logo are shown.

DO

Never enclose the logo in an outlined box. The acronym on the logo should never be translated. It should always be AATF

DON'T

DO

Do not superimpose the logo on any image that obscure the logo or makes it hard to see or read.

Lorem ipsum dolor sit amet,
consectetur adipiscing elit, sed
diam nonummy nibh
euismod tincidunt ut laoreet
dolore magna aliquam erat volutpat. Ut wisi enim ad.

DON'T

Lorem ipsum dolor sit amet,
consectetur adipiscing elit, sed
diam nonummy nibh
euismod tincidunt ut laoreet dolore magna aliquam erat volutpat. Ut wisi enim ad.

Do not use the entire logo, or any part of it separately as a tinted background or decorative element.

Do not distort, recreate, add any elements or alter the proportions of the logo.

Colour Palette

The primary colours of the AATF logo are Dark Green and Gold. These should be the dominant colours in all communication and should be used exclusively during the introduction of the brand to the market.

The secondary colours are to be used as support colours in communication and can be used for thematic promotions, or product segmentation. These must always be used together with at least one primary colour.

Visual Style

The logo has a new visual style that ensures consistency across all communication materials put out on various platforms. The main element is derived from the outline of a leaf vein and ends with circuit lines. One can manipulate it various times but still retain the general leaf vein structure. One should use the below visual style, the lines should not be too thick or thin.

Electronic - Email Signature

Electronic communication should always be signed off using the template shown.

Publications - Posters

The examples shown here demonstrate the minimum and maximum relationship of the illustration to copy posters. The general rule is to have a 50% - 50% or 60% - 40% ratio between the imagery and the copy.

Publications - Brochures and Flyers

The front cover must have the Logo, the title of the brochure, and the supporting tagline. The spacing of the logo to the edge of the brochure should not be less than 10mm. With regard to the styling of the flyer, we are free to experiment with various styles and colours as stated in the visual style elements and colour palette sections. On the inside, the size and colours of the key graphic element are both variable.

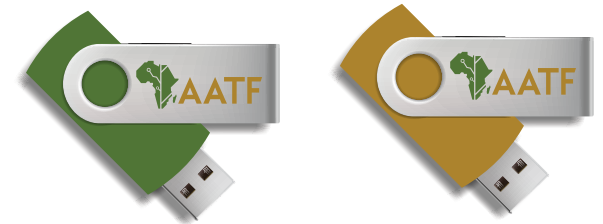

Banners

These are examples of roll up banners and press banner that can be used during events. It is imperative that the branding be aligned to the brand identity.

Promotional Items - Pens, Caps, Mugs, Flash Disks, Umbrellas

These are examples of promotional items that can be used by staff or given as gifts. It is imperative that the branding be aligned to the brand identity.

Promotional Items - Polo Shirts and Shirts

These are examples of promotional items that can be used by staff or given as gifts. It is imperative that the branding be aligned to the brand identity.

Vehicle Branding

The logo should always be allowed its clearance area. It should be placed on both front doors. Size of the logo should be dependant on the amount of clearance area that is there. The logo should always be on an area where it has maximum impact when displayed.

Social Media

Not all social media platforms work for this industry. Facebook, Twitter, Instagram and LinkedIn work for this industry. The banners for the various platforms should always carry the visual style.
